

Need justification for traveling to WWHF? Your employer wants to know the ROI, why it's worth time away from work, and why go if most of the talks are recorded. Valid questions. Hopefully the below can help talk your way into the most hands-on conference in the industry.

Benefits of Attending WWHF:

Education through Talks – WWHF is bringing in some of the best and brightest from the infosec industry for talks, training and workshops. With over 50 presentations on topics vetted by the community, you are able to target the one's most relevant to your work. Speakers include actionable take-aways in their presentations that you can utilize as soon as you return to work.

Education through Hands-on Labs – WWHF is the most-hands on conference in the industry. Studies show that you learn best by doing. Which is why we've built numerous labs, a Capture the Flag, Escape Room and so much more! Many are built in an environment that progressively increase in difficulty. So no matter the skill level, anyone can jump right in and begin learning. Or if you're a seasoned professional you can quickly progress through to the more advanced stuff.

Networking & Collaborative Insight – Have questions? Our community is very keen on sharing expertise, and we've created an environment that makes it easy to connect and interact with the best in the industry.

Sponsor Lab Interaction – The majority of sponsors at WWHF are also bringing hands-on labs. They aren't just there to sell, but to educate as well. We've created an atmosphere where you can test out vendor tools that you otherwise couldn't.

Continuing Professional Education (CPEs) – Need some of those? Yep, you get 16 CPE's for attending the conference, and even more if you sign up for Workshops or the 2-day Training!

Keep Employees Happy with Low Cost Training – Ok, this one might be uncomfortable to discuss. But employee retention is a huge challenge in this industry. A great way to keep someone happy is to invest in them and develop their skills...and you (the employer) get to benefit from the knowledge gained!

Two lunches and a dinner included – There is no other IT conference in the industry that includes daily lunch and a Steak dinner. I know it might seem small, but travel expenses add up and at WWHF you get more bang for your buck with the conference ticket!

*Bonus points if you offer to deliver a short presentation or Q&A for your colleagues to share learning and multiply the benefits of attendance

$275 gets you into the most hands-on conference in the industry! Tickets include:

- Access to all Talks, Labs & Workshops (reg required)
- Capture the Flag
- All Special Events (Escape Room, Hiring Happy Hour, etc)
- Morning Coffee & Lunch on Thursday and Friday
- Chuckwagon Steak Dinner on Friday